WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

An upper level trough over the Pacific Northwest combined with instability will bring the threat of scattered thunderstorms to the interior forecast area this afternoon and evening. Some of the storms may produce small hail and heavy rain. High pressure building at the end of the week will bring a warming and drying trend to the interior.

San Francisco Weather:

A weak system will bring a slight chance of showers and thunderstorms to a portion of the forecast area today. Building high pressure to the east will bring a warming trend Thursday and Friday, especially to inland areas, and warm conditions will continue into the weekend.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

An upper wave moves over Northern California today with showers and potential thunderstorms. The forecast area can then expect a warming trend Wednesday into the weekend.

Hanford Weather:

Mostly clear skies over the forecast area as weak high pressure prevails. A warming trend will begin on Thursday and continue into the weekend. Thunderstorms will once again be possible along the Sierra Crest Sunday into early next week.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

High pressure currently over New Mexico will expand west through the end of the week resulting in a warming trend and a reduction in marine layer cloud coverage. Triple digit heat can be expected for the desert and the hottest valley locations starting Wednesday or Thursday and lasting through the weekend.

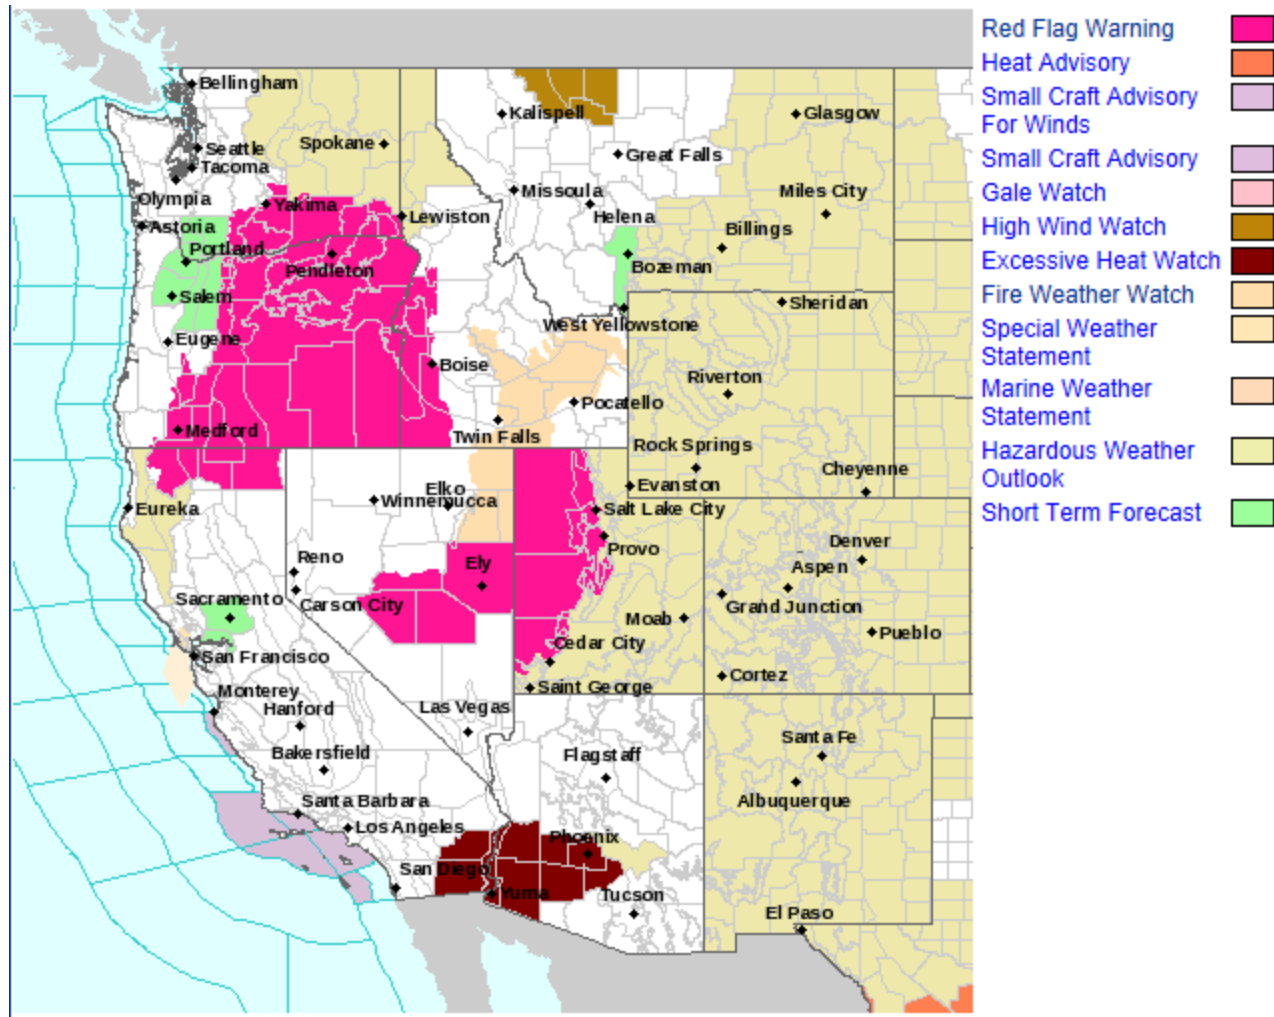

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

Low pressure off the coast will have less influence on the weather across Southern California as high pressure builds in from the east. The building high will shrink the marine layer closer to the coast and bring hotter days, especially inland. The wind flow will be mostly dry through midweek then become increasingly moist as winds turn southeast this weekend. The moisture will bring an increased threat of thunderstorms in the mountains and deserts and along the coast it will be slightly warmer with areas of night and morning low clouds continuing.

Southeast California Weather:

A strong high pressure system is forecast to develop over the region this week resulting in very hot temperatures by Wednesday. At the same time, monsoon moisture will slowly increase over the area with occasional cloudiness at times. Increased moisture levels combined with several weak weather disturbances from Mexico are forecast to increase the chance of afternoon and evening showers and thunderstorms.

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

- On 7/15/14 the State Water Board passed new regulation to reduce out door urban water use. The regulation makes an exception for health and safety circumstances. Local agencies can ask courts to fine water users up to $500.00 a day and the SWRCB can fine water agencies up to $10,000.00 per day. - Reservoir Levels (% capacity): Reservoir Levels as of July 21 remain low, including: Don Pedro 47%; Exchequer 23%; Folsom Lake 43%; Lake Oroville 38%; Millerton Lake 56%; New Melones 28%; Pine Flat 23%; San Luis 26%; Lake Shasta 37%; and Trinity Lake 39%. An update of water levels at other smaller reservoirs is also available.

Situational Summary

- On July 15, 2014, CDFA in partnership with U.C. Davis Center for Watershed Sciences released a study titled Economic Analysis of the 2014 Drought for California Agriculture. The study indicates the drought in California is the third most severe on record and is responsible for the greatest water loss ever seen for the state's agriculture, and river water for Central Valley farms has been reduced by roughly one-third, according. Direct costs to agriculture total about $1.5 billion (which include revenue losses of $1 billion and $0.5 billion in additional pumping costs). This net revenue loss is about 3% of the state's total agricultural value

- The 2014 Governor Drought Task Force continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.
